

ALEX VOINEA

Alex Voinea was born in Romania in 1973 and is an artist currently residing in Sitges, Barcelona. He began his artistic career in Italy after leaving Romania following the revolution. Since then, his work has been showcased in several international art hubs such as Brussels, Paris, London, Milan, Amsterdam, New York, and Los Angeles.

Voinea's abstract works are characterized by fading backgrounds that create depth and perspective. His paintings come alive with vibrancy and motion through drippings and sweeping brushstrokes that feature an array of saturated and fluorescent colors, bringing fluidity to his work. He captures moments of tension and sublime relief, evoking fleeting moments that last only a thousandth of a second.

Voinea's undulating strokes slither among one another, creating a sense of movement that vibrates against geometric planes of color. His art is inspired by experiments with paint poured over vibrating surfaces, such as speakers at full volume, allowing him to collaborate with chance and capture the energy of the moment. He uses projections of paint, splashes of pure material, and streams of color in space to express the temporary nature of the world.

In his work, Voinea captures and freezes an imaginary and expressive big bang of color in an instant. His paintings are a testament to his ability to capture the fleeting nature of life in his art.
